AMERICA STOREHOUSE OF RADIUM.

In the last few years the world has depended largely upon the carnotite fields of Colorado for its supply of radium. The product of the Austrian mines is comparatively insignificant. In 1912, for example, Colorado produced about 20 grams of radium; the rest of the world, including Austria, furnished only about 3 1-2 grams. We thus produce approximately six times more than all the rest of civilization.

A TRUTHFUL BUT SARCASTIC EPIGRAM.

James J. Hill, the great railroad magnate and allround pessimist said that he believed supervision of railroad securities by the Interstate Commerce Commission would be better than by 48 state commissions, as at present. Asked if he favored Government ownership of the railroads he said:

"If the Government will put reins on the active people and provide them with food and raiment this would be a fine country. After that the Government might undertake to arrange the weather.'

H. P. BLAVATSKY ON THE MISSION OF THEOSOPHY.

All who wish to know the actual conception that Madame Blavatsky herself had regarding the mission of Theosophy should read H. P. Blavatsky on the Mission of Theosophy by H. T. Edge, M. A., which has numerous quotations from Madame Blavatsky's writings. Speaking of the relation between moral improvement and mental and psychic growth, the writer shows that Madame Blavatsky unmistakably taught that moral improvement must come first. "On no point is she more insistent," he says. The writer further declares that the opposite view held by many, namely, "that mental and psychic development should be aimed at, in the hope or under the plea, that moral improvement will be the logical sequel," is both philosophically and by experience wrong.

"Theosophy is intended to benefit individuals and races; hence it teaches the eternal truth that moral principle always has the first place."-By H. T. Edge, M. A.

REPRESENTATIVE GOVERNMENT

It is not believed that men are any more anxious to directly participate without the intervention of a representative, in the making of the laws, than they are to be their own lawyers, their own preachers, their own doctors, their own builders, their own everything, without leaving anything to chosen and paid representatives.

In every department of life, representation by others is recognized as sound business, and it is an absurdity to say it should not be applied to gove ernment. It is hard to see how any man who would abolish representative government, substituting therefor a direct, or purely democratic government. can give any reason for such a radical change, that will be satisfactory to any thinking man. It is fact, as all history shows, that no government such as that some are advocating as against representative government, has ever stood the test of time.

If representative government has fallen short of what it should be, is it not a fact that the wrong remedy is being sought? Isn't it a fact that the people take it less seriously than they should? It is admitted that it takes training to make a successful practitioner in any one of the professions. It is conceded that it takes three years to make a carpenter, a mason, a shoemaker, a printer or any sort of a tradesman. But the idea seems to be with a good many that an election certificate is all that is necessary to make a stateman. Too many are engaged to make and administer the laws who are without raining or adaptation. Here is something to be hought of and to be thought about seriously ortsmouth Blade.

THE CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY

Let the Legislature not be unjust to the hundreds of children in care of the Kentucky Home Society, nor ungrateful to the men and women who have brought this work to its present condition.

This is not an orphan's home, honorable as such institutions are; it is a society for the relief of homeless children for whom the State must care. It seeks out the little ones; brings them here for care, for medical attention, for physical improvement and for education.

Here they are detained for a while, then homes, private homes, are found and the children are placed with those who will give them all they have miss ed, with the State still as their guardian.

The managers of this Home are entitled to the confidence of the Legislature. They are performing without fee or reward a work that relieves the State of a great burden.-Louisville Post

NO ILLITERACY INVESTIGATION

We are glad that there is something that Con gress declines to investigate. Earnest efforts have been made to induce Congress to appoint a commission to investigate adult illiteracy.

Adult illiteracy is not a matter of serious moment. Its importance has been greatly exaggerated. It is an interesting fact that the percentage of illiteracy increases as we advance from twenty years to sixty years. At twenty it is comparatively insignificant showing that as was said in Congress, the present system of education is abolishing illiteracy by educating the young. The large percentage among the older people is due to the fact that forty and fifty years ago, when they were of school age, education was not so simple a thing as it is now, nor so easily obtainable, for today it is true that illiteracy is a voluntary condition and not Moreover, illiteracy is a State and local question, and can only be solved at home. Thirty years ago the proposition was made in Congress by Senator Blair for Federal aid to education. It was debated at great length for several sessions and finally it was rejected by the almost solid vote of the Southern States.

It was a fortunate rejection. The responsibility for illiteracy or education has been brought home directly to each community and the South has made greater exertions in behalf of education than she would ever do had the burden been placed upon the Federal treasury.

Illiteracy is being gradually abolished. The process by which this education is going on should not be interrupted by any action of the Federal government, whatever form it may take.

It is encouraging at last to find that one legislative body is prepared to reject one proposition for another commission and for another appropriation. -Louisville Post.

TO BUCKINGHAM PALACE Deputation.

London.-Mrs. Dacre-Fox informed a meeting of suffragettes she had delivered Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst's letter at Buckingham Palace under escort of the gate policeman, who refused to allow her to enter alone.

Mrs. Pankhurst's letter asked the King to receive a deputation which desired to complain of "the barbarous methods of torture used by your majesty's Ministers.'

Mrs. Dacre-Fox handed the letter to the King's private secretary. If no reply is received another letter will be sent. "If his majesty is unwise to refuse to see the deputation," said Mrs. Dacre-Fox, "we will go to Buckngham Palace anyway."

Wonderful ROOT JUICE, made from a collection of Nature's own restoratives, roots, herbs, leaves and barks, is accomplishing things for old folks that you'd scarcely believe possible. elling twenty-dollar suits for $9.98, a tory told by Pete Linn, an employe of the Buena Clothing Company, of Rip ey fits nicely. One day a well known itizen over that way dropped into their store to show them a fifty-dollar overcoat he had purchased for thirtyfive dollars. He was asked to put it on. and it simply hung on the man. While this was going on the man stated that after he had given his order, he had received a letter from the firm, stating it was a shame to put the kind of lining he had ordered in a coat made of such good cloth, and that for $2.50 more they would use a better lining. The man sent the extra amount. He had dropped into the Beuna establishment for the express purpose to show how much the home merchant was behind. When he had finished, Mr. Linn went to their stock and drew out the identical coat. It was placed upon the man every comparison made, then he was told thant they had been selling it all the time for ten dollars. The conclusion was that the man left the coat he had ordered from the foreign dealer to have it altered that he might be able to wear it, thus making further cost. There is but one moral to this little incident.

How many hospital patients, suffering the frightful itch, the raw scorching pain of skin disease, have been soothed to sleep by a soothing fluid washed in by the nurse's hands?

That fluid is the famous D. D. D.

THE SUPERVISING NURSE of one of our prominent Catholic institutions (name of nurse and institute on application), writes regarding a patient.

"The disease had eaten her eyebrows away. Her nose and lips had become disfigured. Since the use of D. D. D. her eyebrows are growing, her nose and face have assumed their natural expression." How many eczema sufferers are paying their doctors for regular treatment and are being treated with this same soothing, healing fluid?

writes "D. D. D. is superior to anything I have ever found. Soft and soothing, yet a powerful agent." To do the work, D. D. D. Prescription must be applied according to directions given in the pamphlet around every bottle. Follow these directions—and see!

And it certainly takes away the itch at once—the moment the liquid is applied. The skin is soothed—calmed—so thoroughly refreshed—delightfully cooled. All druggists of standing have the famous specific as well-as the efficient D. D. Skin Soap. But we are so confident of the merits of this prescription that we will refund the purchase price of the first full size bottle if it fails to reach your case. You alone are to judge.

Ragland Writes Interesting Letter on This Subject.

Madison Heights, Va.-Mr. Chas. A. Ragland, of this place, writes: "I have been taking Thedford's Black-Draught for indigestion, and other stomach troubles, also colds, and find it to be the very best medicine I have ever used.

After taking Black-Draught for a few days, I always feel like a new man." Nervousness, nausea, heartburn, pain in pit of stomach, and a feeling of fullness after eating, are sure symptoms of stomach trouble, and should be given the proper treatment, as your strength and health depend very largely upon your food and its digestion.

To get quick and permanent relief from these ailments, you should take a medicine of known curative merit. Its 75 years of splendid success, in the treatment of just such troubles, proves the real merit of Thedford's Black-Draught. Safe, pleasant, gentle in action,
